

	now	every day	today	at the moment	sometimes	usually
He/play football
She / read a book
We / do our homework
Mark / sing a song
My parents / watch TV
I / speak
You / drink milk
Sue and Jack / eat
Jane / learn

	now	every day	today	at the moment	sometimes	usually
He/play football	He is playing football now.	He plays football every day.	He is playing football today.	He is playing football at the moment.	He sometimes plays football.	He usually plays football.
She / read a book	She is reading a book now.	She reads a book every day.	She is reading a book today.	She is reading a book at the moment.	She sometimes reads a book.	She usually reads a book.
We / do our homework	We are doing our homework now.	We do our homework every day.	We are doing our homework today.	We are doing our homework at the moment.	We sometimes do our homework.	We usually do our homework.
Mark / sing a song	Mark is singing a song now.	Mark sings a song every day.	Mark is singing a song today.	Mark is singing a song at the moment.	Mark sometimes sings a song.	Mark usually sings a song.
My parents / watch TV	My parents are watching TV now.	My parents watch TV every day.	My parents are watching TV today.	My parents are watching TV at the moment.	My parents sometimes watch TV.	My parents usually watch TV.
I / speak	I am speaking now.	I speak every day.	I am speaking today.	I am speaking at the moment.	I sometimes speak.	I usually speak.
You / drink milk	You are drinking milk now.	You drink milk every day.	You are drinking milk today.	You are drinking milk at the moment.	You sometimes drink milk.	You usually drink milk.
Sue and Jack / eat	Sue and Jack are eating now.	Sue and Jack eat every day.	Sue and Jack are eating today.	Sue and Jack are eating at the moment.	Sue and Jack sometimes eat.	Sue and Jack usually eat.
Jane / learn	Jane is learning now.	Jane learns every day.	Jane is learning today.	Jane is learning at the moment.	Jane sometimes learns.	Jane usually learns.