

Add the articles where necessary:

Sun was shining brightly when Jane arrived at station. She got off and she went to information desk and asked: "Could you tell, where nearest pizzeria is?"

"It is not far from here. Go out of station, turn left and it is about 400 metres on left."

"Thank you," said Jane and she started walking. She quickly found pizzeria and she went inside. There were very few people. There was waiter and man sitting in corner. It was David Bourn. He was eating slice of pizza, but when he saw Jane he stopped.

She came to him.

"Have you got diamond?" he asked.

"Yes," she smiled. She put her hand into pocket and she took out gun.

"Sorry, David. Game is over. I am policewoman and you are arrested."

The key:

THE Sun was shining brightly when Jane arrived at THE station. She got off and she went to the information desk and asked: "Could you tell, where the nearest pizzeria is?"

"It is not far from here. Go out of the station, turn left and it is about 400 metres on THE left."

"Thank you," said Jane and she started walking. She quickly found THE pizzeria and she went inside. There were very few people. There was A waiter and A man sitting in THE corner. It was David Bourn. He was eating A slice of pizza, but when he saw Jane he stopped.

She came to him.

"Have you got THE diamond?" he asked.

"Yes," she smiled. She put her hand into A pocket and she took out A gun.

"Sorry, David. THE Game is over. I am A policewoman and you are arrested."